All the visitors look the picture of health, and are certainly a rugged lot of athletes.

The opening series with the New York team will be played Monday. Tuesday, and Wednesday, at Livingston, on the Staten Island Cricket Club's grounds. The visitors then leave for Philadelphia, playing three games, beginning Friday mext at Haverford.

Lord Hawke will then probably take his cricketers to Boston, returning to play at Manheim. Pa. with Philadelphia. Matches will also probably be made at Baltimore and in Canada.

The members of the party are as follows: Lord Hawkes, captain; C. W. Wright, G. W. Hillyard, K. McAlpine, J. S. Robinson, W. F. Whitewell, L. C. Y. Bathurst, G. R. Bardswell, G. J. Mordaunt, A. J. L. Hill, C. E. de Trafford and R. S. Lucas, of Middlesex, who takes the place of J. H. I. Hornsby, who declined at the last minute.

Lord Hawke's reputation as a cricket player extends over a period of fourteen as a record hardly less prominent than that of their leader. It is in every respect a representative team of England.

The local team which will meet the English cricketers next week is made up of P. G. Payne, N. J. A. C., captain; G. F. F. Kelly, N. Y. A. C.; M. R. Cobb, N. J. A. C.; J. H. L. Wight, N. J. A. C.; T. Short, S. I. C. C.; J. H. Lambkin, S. I. C. C.; A. E. Patterson, S. I. C. C.; A. C. Repley, Manhattan C. C.; and Wright, of the S. I. C. C.; and Brooklyn, C. C.; A. Smedley, Manhattan C. "Next day," he continued, "I was put into the van with half a dozen others. One man had the jaundice and was even worse off than I. Well, they drove all over the city, first to the Yorkville Court, and then to Essex Markel, and finally we were lodged in the Tombs, where the paper Justice Burke had signed for me was handed over."

"I was hoping even then," said Keely, "that some dector would examine me, and have me sent to the hospital, but during all the time I was there I never got a particle of medical treatment, although I was in torture."

Rescued by Missionary Stephens. Kelly was in such a pitiable condition, and looked so out of place in the prison, with his Grand Army button and blue suit that he attracted the attention of Mr. Stephens, the missionary. The latter, who attends the Tormba simoat daily, heard his story, and became interested, and resolved if possible to get him out. He began a search of the records, but could find nothing showing that the man had actually been committed as a vagrant.

"The latter class, however," says The Field, "has never been fortunate, and it proceeds to advocate the eighty-raters from which which will accord with American views on the subject and afford a fine opportunity of having a fleet of eighty-raters from which to choose an American Cup challenger or a Victoria Cup defender.

"At all events it would be well, now that there is talk of international rules to get an international classification as well. In fact, this is quite as important as the rating rule, and the sooner negotiations are opened with the New York and Continental yacht clubs the better."
